ACCORDING to an unofficial police estimate some four thousand, two hundred and fifty people took part in the annual National Front Remembrance Day March. This was not only the largest National Front gathering ever held, but the largest patriotic demonstration ever held in pre- or post-war Britain.

ACCORDING to an unofficial police estimate some four thousand, two hundred and fifty people took part in the annual National Front Remembrance Day March. This was not only the largest National Front gathering ever held, but the largest patriotic demonstration ever held in pre- or post-war Britain.

The march was led by a stirring Scots Pipe Band which is pictured above. This was followed by the Colour Party who not only carried Union Jacks and the flags of England, Scotland, Wales and Ulster but also the flags of Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Rhodesia and South Africa.

Behind the Colour Party came the Wreath Laying Party which was made up of Air-Vice Marshal G. Pidcock, CB, CBE, RAF (Retd.), Mr. John Tyndall (Chairman of the NF's National Directorate), the Rev. Brian Green, Squadron Leader J. Harrison-Broadley, DFC (the NF candidate in the recent Hove Parliamentary By-election), and Wing Commander Lewis-Whittam.

Then came the Branches, Groups and supporters drawn up in a thousand long column.

The march proceeded at a brisk but dignified pace from Victoria Street to the Cenotaph. Here the Colour Party formed a square of flags and the ceremony began with buglers sounding the last post. A two-minute silence was then observed and broken by the buglers sounding reveille. Air Vice Marshal Pidcock laid the wreath which was inscribed in grateful memory of the Servicemen and Women of the United Kingdom and the other British nations who gave their lives in the two world wars.

The assembly then stood in contemplative silence as the Pipe Major played the haunting and poignant strains of the lament, Flowers of the Forest. This was followed by a short service conducted by the Rev. Brian Green who then led the parade in singing O God Our Help in Ages Past. With this the ceremony was concluded and the parade marched off to Trafalgar Square. An indoor meeting held in a theatre nearby was addressed by Mr. J. Kingsley Read, Wing Commander Lewis-Whittam, Mr. Roy Painter, Mr. Walter Barton, Mr. Martin Webster and Mr. John Tyndall. Speakers praised the spirit of patriotism and sacrifice that had inspired those who had fallen, only to be betrayed — as we all have — by our own politicians.

Martin Webster's speech was interrupted by the sudden illness of a young member. In spite of being partially handicapped he had come to London from Jarrow to take part in the march. Martin Webster said that this was indicative of the spirit and courage to be found in the National Front. In the 1930s the men of Jarrow had been reduced to destitution and anguish by the schemes of International Finance. They had taken to the streets in their famous march but they had never been given a satisfactory explanation for their plight. We had found that explanation, however, and the same determination which had inspired the Jarrow marchers was now inspiring the ranks of the National Front.

Attention was also drawn to the amazing growth in the size of the annual event. The National Front commenced to march to the Cenotaph in the year when the organisers of the official ceremony had declined to lay a wreath in memory of the Servicemen of Rhodesia. This first march had been attended by only thirty people. In the space of a few years this had grown to over four thousand.

No report of the march or meeting was carried on any broadcasting network or appeared in any national newspaper.

Breaking the monopoly

The national and local press is under almost total monopoly control. This has given its owners a free hand to distort, lie about or totally suppress the real news.

Our front page carries a report of the National Front's annual Remembrance Day march. Like many other NF marches this received absolutely no publicity in the press despite the fact that even the smallest Marxist, 'liberal', internationalist, unpatriotic and anti-British demonstrations receive over-full publicity.

The Establishment knows full well that these groups are a good diversion — particularly for young idealists, and that only radical nationalist movements pose any real threat to the power of international monopoly capitalism and its political agencies.

We know, however, that this bias cannot be maintained forever without being questioned. Thousands of people took part in, saw or knew about our march. When they saw no mention of it they must have begun to ask questions, and they must have begun to consider that the press is nothing but a well-orchestrated conspiracy not only in Britain but all over the world.

Until such time as our numbers can be brought to bear, however, the British people are dependent on looking elsewhere for news of what is really happening in Britain. Britain First has been revived in order to help them in their search.

The oil crisis

A glimpse of how the news is controlled

THE 'British' press is a prime example of how monopoly capitalism and its Marxist tools co-operate to deny a hearing to genuinely revolutionary movements such as the National Front.

One of the largest publishing monopolies is that controlled by Lazard Brothers, the International Financiers, through the holding company of S. Pearson and Son Ltd. This vast finance-industrial-publishing conglomerate comprises of literally hundreds of newspapers, magazines, press agencies and publishing companies and these take up more than 20 column inches of small print in the 1970 edition of the authoritative Who Owns Whom.

They include The Financial Times, The Economist, The Banker, The Birmingham Post, The Oxford Mail, The Catholic Herald, Yorkshire Television Ltd., The National Press Agency Ltd., The Longman Group of Publishing Companies Ltd., and Penguin Books Ltd. — the largest publisher of Marxist literature in Britain.

Much of Lazard's power is concentrated in the Westminster Press Group which owns over seventy papers including the Brighton Evening Argus and the Bradford Telegraph and Argus. Prominent on the boards of the Westminster Press Group and S. Pearson and Son Ltd., is Mr. W. B. Morrell, who, as Chairman of the Rowntree Charitable Trust, was responsible for the donation of thousands of pounds worth of aid to FRELIMO — the Communist terrorist organisation in Angola.

Also on the board of the Westminster Press Group is the notorious Race Relations Industry hack Mr. Jim Rose. Mr. Rose was author of the book Colour and Citizenship published jointly by Penguin Books and the Big Business financed and Communist dominated Institute of Race Relations.

The anti-national objectives of this and similar enterprises controlled by international capitalism are only too willingly served by the host of 'liberal' and so-called 'revolutionary Socialists' who are employed as journalists. In his book Because They're Black the race relations correspondent for the Sunday Times, Derek Humphrey, admitted: "It is an unwritten rule in British journalism to print as little as possible about extreme right-wing (sic) organisations because the publicity only helps them to recruit members." Humphrey went on to say that the silent approach had not been successful enough and that a smear approach would have to be adopted.

The same kind of bias is found in other areas of the mass media. The Sunday Telegraph of 18th November admitted: "Television presenters of public affairs programmes consistently show their contempt for authoritarian Right-wing (sic) organisations like the National Front . . ."

The oil crisis

The current oil crisis underlines the absolute necessity for a policy of economic nationalism as advocated by the National Front. While recognising that total self-sufficiency is probably impossible, a free trade area linking Britain with the white dominions would go a long way towards decreasing our dependence on the vagaries of foreign trade.

This is, of course, dependent on the resources of the British world being in British hands. Britain has a vast store of natural gas and oil in the North Sea capable of making us two-thirds self-sufficient by the mid-80s. Much of this, however, has been sold off to multi-national companies at ludicrously low prices. If we are to make proper use of these resources they must be returned to British ownership.

The Ulster sell-out

As Britain First goes to press the outcome of the tripartite conference on a Council of Ireland is still uncertain. The general drift of the situation is not uncertain, however, for sooner or later there is going to be a sell-out.

It has long been rumoured in Fleet Street circles that a deal has already been made between the Heath Government and the Government of the Irish Republic to the effect that Ulster will be handed over to a United Ireland as soon as it becomes possible to do so.

The Irish Republican Social Democratic Labour Party, the peace-at-any-price Alliance Party and Ulster's

200 black youths attack policemen

Three policemen were injured in an hour-long race riot when 40 policemen were attacked by a 200 strong mob of West Indians.

The trouble began when black youths started fighting amongst themselves with bottles and chairs at a discotheque attached to the George and Dragon public house in Southall's High Street.

As police arrived the rioters stopped fighting each other and turned on them. The police were showered with bottles and stones.

Only with the aid of reinforcements and police dogs were the West Indians eventually dispersed. Five arrests were made.

The Irish Republican Social Democratic Labour Party, the peace-at-any-price Alliance Party and Ulster's Tory establishment as represented by Faulkner's 'Unionists' are now collaborating to that end — the creation of a Council of Ireland and a common law enforcement area being substantial steps towards it.

This criminal betrayal of the mainstream of British Loyalists in Ulster closely parallels the way in which the whole of the British people have been betrayed by the Tories. Though the Tories have always been quite willing to exploit appeals to patriotism, they regard the existence of the British nation as nothing more than a mere tool to be discarded when it no longer serves their squalid sectional interests.

70% of Britons against Common Market

According to an opinion poll carried out at the official behest of the E.E.C. Commission only three in every ten people favour Britain's membership of the Common Market. The poll, published in Brussels at the beginning of this month, is a clear indication that even the feeble Europhoria instilled by the pro-Common Market campaign has been blown away by the harsh winds of economic and political reality.

Spontaneous welcome organised

According to a report in the Daily Telegraph of November 26, Indian Government officials and members of the ruling Congress Party toured the New Delhi area prior to Brezhnev's recent visit in order to recruit thousands of labourers and peasant farmers to provide a welcome for him. Brought in from villages by lorry, they gave him an enthusiastic reception that will certainly look good on Soviet newsreels for the folks back home.

Some of the tenants were moved there temporarily after the Second World War! They have been agitating to be rehoused ever since.

The blocks could and should be closed immediately under a Public Health Act order and the tenants rehoused. The Chief Medical Officer of Health for Southwark, Dr. Epsom, has already declared that the tenements are unfit for human habitation.

If this was done, however, the Council would have to pay a higher price for what would then be empty property when they finally get round to buying the land for re-development under a Compulsory Purchase Order. In order to save money, therefore, the Council are leaving the tenants to rot until some unstated date in the future.

A crumbling staircase with only a broken handrail to save tenants from a five storey drop. This is an obvious menace to young children and elderly people.

One cold tap in the 'kitchen' is the only source of running water apart from that which runs down the walls. The abandoned top flats are only partially roofed and rainwater pours straight down through the blocks.

Southwark's Labour Councillors have other priorities such as the desire to build a multi-million pound town hall complex for their own benefit, comfort and greater municipal glory. In spite of the fact that Southwark Council already has three town halls at its disposal and probably more land cleared for housing and development than any other London Borough, it will be evicting 240 perfectly contented and adequately housed families in Peckham in order to build the complex.

PROPERTY DEVELOPERS

On November 21 the Council's 68 Labour to 2 Conservative councillors assembled to allow the biggest redevelopment London has ever seen by giving away the right to transform a vast area of the borough to a tiny handful of property companies.

Over a mile of wharves, warehouses and factories is to be replaced by the biggest concentration of office blocks outside the City — representing, according to the Daily Telegraph, an eventual profit to their owners of over £500 million.

These developments will, no doubt, provide Southwark residents with something to look at while they wait for Heath's Better Tomorrow.

NATIONAL FRONT WINS 1,409 VOTES AT HOVE

Sqn.Ldr. HARRISON-BROADLEY

In the Hove by-election on November 8th, the National Front candidate, Squadron Leader John Harrison-Broadley, DFC, secured 1,409 votes.

Though this did not come anywhere near the 8 per cent of the poll secured at Uxbridge or the 16 per cent secured by Martin Webster at West Bromwich, it was a reasonable result for such a solidly Tory area that had not been fought before.

Turkish Delight?

End the muggers' reign of terror!

ACCORDING to a report in the London Evening News, a gang of three coloured youths brutally attacked a 71-year-old woman in a Camberwell street, battered her to the ground and punched and kicked her. She suffered concussion and broken ribs.

Meanwhile, teachers at Tulse Hill Comprehensive in Lambeth were planning a weekend at the seaside in order to discuss the latest plans for pandering to the school's large percentage of West Indian pupils. Despite the fact that the school already runs courses in so-called 'Black Studies' and hopes to allow its pupils to sit a Certificate of Secondary Education in them, it has an appalling record for what are euphemistically referred to as "behavioural problems" and is notorious throughout London.

The carryings on at Tulse Hill are an all too typical example of the way in which our effete liberal establishment falls over backwards to placate criminal minorities at the expense of the large majority of law abiding British people.

It is one thing for the Mark

Bonham-Carters of this world to sit about theorising while comfortably ensconced in the armchairs of their Hampstead homes, but it is quite another to be one of the thousands of working class people who are actually forced to live with the problem of mugging and other manifestations of immigrant crime. They can draw little comfort from the academic theories of sociologists when they see that these amount to nothing but calls for more lenient treatment in the face of the growing menace of violent crime.

A torchlight march to set Britain free from the Common Market is to be held by the National Council of Anti-Common Market Organisations on Saturday, 19th January 1974. Assemble 5.30 p.m. at Speakers Corner, Marble Arch, Hyde Park, London. Torches available at start.

The march is being officially supported by the National Front, and Branches and Groups are urged to organise coach parties. NF placards are allowed but not Branch banners.

LOCAL COUNCIL ATTEMPT TO SUPPRESS N.F.

IN SEPTEMBER the Hayes and Harlington Group of the National Front applied to Hillingdon Council to rent space on Council controlled notice boards. An arrangement was made to display the posters at four sites, two outside libraries and two in shopping centres, from 1 October, 1973 until 31 March, 1974. A cheque to the value of £5.54 was despatched to the Council on 3 October.

Central Fund

The National Front has launched a Central Fund for the purpose of meeting its administrative expenses in the fighting of the next General Election, in which it aims to put up 50 candidates. This fund is not to be confused with local branch funds.

Branch funds will aim to raise the required sum for the fighting of their constituency campaigns, i.e. the placing of candidates' deposits, the printing of their election literature and other general expenses.

The Central Fund is to cover the expense of administering the whole election campaign from headquarters and will include the extension of full time secretarial and organisational staff as its main item.

The Central Fund has been set a target of £10,000 a year for the next two years, starting from the 1st June, 1973.

We urge all supporters of the National Front to give generously so that we may raise the desired figure or at least get a substantial part of the way towards it. Contributions should be addressed to the National Front, 50 Pawsons Road, Croydon, CRO 2QF. Cheques or postal orders should be made out to National Front No. 2 account.

Turkish Delight?

It has long been suspected that the armies of each Common Market country would be used to police each other's homelands as was the practice in the Roman Empire. Such a scheme has long been advocated by World Government enthusiasts.

Information has now come into our hands that in October 1972 a specific 'Turks-for-central-Europe' plan originated within N.A.T.O. and has subsequently been circulating in the U.S. State and Defence Departments as well as in the British Foreign Office. Under the plan American troops are to be withdrawn from West Germany and replaced with Turks.

The prior existence of a large Turkish population, large scale unemployment in Turkey itself, and the attractions of overseas service amongst Europeans are all reckoned to be heavy inducements.

Like the Ghurkas the Turks have some admirable military qualities. Whether or not we wish to see the European heartland invaded by a horde of armed Asiatics is, however, another matter.

The carryings on at Tulse Hill are an all too typical example of the way in which our effete liberal establishment falls over backwards to placate criminal minorities at the expense of the large majority of law abiding British people.

The march is being officially supported by the National Front, and Branches and Groups are urged to organise coach parties. NF placards are allowed but not Branch banners.

Britain: dustbin for the world's trash

The Government has announced that in response to a United Nations appeal Britain is to become a sanctuary for Communist exiles from Chile. These are likely to include Bolivians, Brazilians, Uruguayans and Argentinians who earlier flooded into Chile at the time of Allende's Marxist regime. The Daily Telegraph estimates that their numbers may run into hundreds. The underground network through which fugitives from Chile are to be brought to Britain is being helped by Christian Aid.

Immigrant pupil statistics dropped

Statistics concerning the number of immigrant pupils in British schools have long been criticised for being misleadingly low. Two months ago the Parliamentary Select Committee on Race Relations and Immigration issued a report recommending that the collection extension of full time secretarial and organisational staff as its main item.

The Central Fund has been set a target of £10,000 a year for the next two years, starting from the 1st June, 1973.

We urge all supporters of the National Front to give generously so that we may raise the desired figure or at least get a substantial part of the way towards it. Contributions should be addressed to the National Front, 50 Pawsons Road, Croydon, CRO 2QF. Cheques or postal orders should be made out to National Front No. 2 account.

Spearhead

was the practice in the Roman Empire. Such a scheme has long been advocated by World Government enthusiasts.

Information has now come into our hands that in October 1972 a specific 'Turks-for-central-Europe' plan originated within N.A.T.O. and has subsequently been circulating in the U.S. State and Defence Departments as well as in the British Foreign Office. Under the plan American troops are to be withdrawn from West Germany and replaced with Turks.

The prior existence of a large Turkish population, large scale unemployment in Turkey itself, and the attractions of overseas service amongst Europeans are all reckoned to be heavy inducements.

Like the Ghurkas the Turks have some admirable military qualities. Whether or not we wish to see the European heartland invaded by a horde of armed Asiatics is, however, another matter.

More than ever before this plan exposes the N.A.T.O. farce. N.A.T.O. was not set up, nor has it become a force for protecting Western Civilisation from the Communist Imperium. It is, instead, a mechanism for suppressing and destroying the Western European nations on behalf of the axis that embraces both East and West, which is controlled by American based International Finance, and which is developing (under the auspices of its front man, Henry Kissinger) towards the reduction of the world to a mongrelised slag heap ruled by a cosmopolitan clique.

Three fined

Three men arrested when a Trotskyite mob tried to attack the annual conference of the National Front were each fined £40 at Clerkenwell Court.

John Grogan, Peter O'Sullivan and Arthur Maderson pleaded guilty to using threatening words and behaviour at Red Lion Square, Holborn.

advertising panels should be made available to your organisation."

On 29 November, there were sensational scenes as members of the National Front carried a coffin into the Council chamber, with a notice saying 'Death of Democracy'. Alderman John Bartlett invited the members of the National Front to thump him. In the meantime Mrs.

Front candidate for the Parliamentary constituency of Hayes and Harlington, is appealing for funds. Contributions for this worthy cause should be sent in the form of cheques and postal orders made out to the National Front crossed 'Hayes and Harlington Group' and sent to 62 Longmead Road, Hayes, Middlesex.

More UN lunacy

The General Assembly of the United Nations has now voted to recognise the non-existent "Republic of Guinea-Bissau" as a sovereign state, has condemned Portugal's "illegal occupation" of the "Republic", and has called for steps "to restore the territorial integrity of the Republic." "Guinea-Bissau" can now take its place alongside other U.N. fictions such as "Zimbabwe" (Rhodesia).

Even this piece of sublime fantasy hardly rivals a U.N. decision earlier this year to actually go so far as to print postage stamps for the equally non-existent state of "Namibia" (South-West Africa). Out of respect to international banking circles, no doubt, the stamps bore values in Swiss and American currency.

It is not known which states the United Nations will recognise next, but Erewhon, Utopia and Toytown are obvious favourites. At least the latter is believed to have its own banknotes already.

Immigrant pupil statistics dropped

Statistics concerning the number of immigrant pupils in British schools have long been criticised for being misleadingly low. Two months ago the Parliamentary Select Committee on Race Relations and Immigration issued a report recommending that the collection of statistics on the current basis should cease.

The Government has now solved the problem by ceasing to collect figures altogether. From now on there will be no guide whatsoever — not even an underestimated one.
